RMUTK Database System

Opac Databases

The "Information Resource Database of the Office of Library Services and Information Technology" is a database of information resources from the Office of Library Services and Information Technology. It includes bibliographic records of books in various categories such as documentary, fiction, academic works, reference books, undergraduate project reports, theses, research reports, journal titles, and journal article indexes.

UTK Knowledge Base Database

This system was developed by the Office of Library Services and Information Technology as an electronic document management system. It stores and disseminates digital information and documents of the university. It operates on the internet network and supports referencing through the Dublin Core Metadata system for describing document and information details.

Research and Development Institute

The Research and Development Institute was established in 2005 under the Royal Thai Government's Higher Education Act, B.E. 2548 (2005). According to Section 9 of the Act, it stipulates that the establishment, consolidation, and dissolution of campus offices, graduate schools, faculties, institutes, colleges, or other agencies with equivalent faculty status must be made by a ministerial regulation. The division of government agencies into deanship offices, director offices, departments, divisions, or other agencies with equivalent department or division status must be made by a Ministry of Education announcement.

Previously, this unit was known as the "Research Department," which was part of the Research and Training Division at the Rajamangala University of Technology, Bangkok Campus.
