Video Interview

Competency tests are a great way to narrow the funnel of candidates, but they don't give you a sense of the person behind the scores. Phone screening has filled the gap, but it takes lots of time and staff-hours to schedule, coordinate and evaluate. Plus, it's audio only, so you miss out on how candidates present themselves.

ITC Leadership Institute

International Test Center (ITC) has a commitment to support the development of human resources in Indonesia. In line with this commitment, ITC has developed a training program, called ITC Leadership Institute that focuses on developing and enhancing critical thinking and leadership skills.

The Leadership institute constitutes a customized training with the concept of providing a program that fits the needs of each institution based on their respective fields. The program's unique designs are fresh, new and relevant.
