DUAL AWARD PROGRAMMES WITH HTMI SWITZERLAND

The partnership with HTMI Switzerland, one of the world's leading hospitality school, enables UCSI student's accessibility to a world opportunity. Not only do they obtain another degree with HTMI Switzerland upon completion of the Bachelor of Hospitality Administration, BA (Hons) in Hospitality Management and BA (Hons) in Event and Tourism Management, graduates would also be able to enjoy from the school's global network of career network service, mobility and internship. As the first hotel school to create and develop its own international hotel management brand, Swisstouches Hotels and Resorts, with a pipeline of over 10,000 rooms open and to be opened around the world, UCSI graduates of these programmes are set to reap the benefits especially in charting global careers.

PROGRAMMES CERTIFIED BY THE WORLD ASSOCIATION OF MASTER CHEFS, AUSTRALIA

UCSI University has received international recognition from the World Association of Master Chefs (WAMC) Recognition of Quality Culinary and Hospitality Education programme for meeting or exceeding international quality standards for culinary and hospitality education. As a result, UCSI University is now the sole academic partner for WAMC in Malaysia. Additionally, WAMC has officially endorsed UCSI University as an Approved Education Provider for Malaysia, recognising UCSI's hospitality and culinary programmes across all campuses.

With this prestigious recognition, UCSI University's culinary and hospitality graduates will be eligible for additional WAMC certifications at the Master Chef level and can become members of WAMC Australia. This provides graduates with globally recognised credentials, enhancing their international hospitality workforce opportunities.

The partnership with the World Association of Master Chefs, Australia, provides UCSI students with global opportunities. Upon completing their degree programmes at UCSI University, students also obtain WAMC certification and the medal of master chef.
