

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

BETWEEN

UNIVERSITY OF HYDERABAD, HYDERABAD, TELANGANA, INDIA

AND

UNIVERSITAS NEGERI MALANG, INDONESIA

This Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) is drawn up and agreed upon to establish the cooperation between the University of Hyderabad (hereinafter referred to as UoH) located at Professor C.R. Rao Road, Gachibowli, Hyderabad – 500 046, Telangana, India and Universitas Negeri Malang (hereinafter referred to as State University of Malang UM) located at Jalan Semarang 5 Malang, 65145, East Java, Indonesia.

1. Description of both institutions:

The University of Hyderabad, a premier institution of Postgraduate teaching and research, was established by an Act of Parliament in 1974 as a Central University. The University has twelve Schools of Study—School of Mathematics and Statistics, School of Physics, School of Chemistry, School of Life Sciences, School of Humanities, School of Social Sciences, S.N. School of Arts and Communication, School of Management Studies, School of Engineering Sciences and Technology, School of Medical Sciences, School of Economics and School of Computer and Information Sciences.

Universitas Negeri Malang, comes from the College of Teacher's Education (Perguruan Tinggi Pendidikan Guru, or PTPG), which was inaugurated by the Minister of Education, Teaching and Culture, Prof. Mr. Muhammad Yamin, on October 18, 1954 based on the Decree No. 38742/Kab, September 1, 1954. Simultaneously, Prof. Sutan Adam Bakhtiar was commissioned as the first Rector of PTPG Malang.

The founding of another university in East Java, Universitas Airlangga (UNAIR) on November 10, 1954, brought about some important consequences to the status of PTPG Malang. PTPG Malang merged with UNAIR and became one of its four faculties. In due time, PTPG Malang became the Faculty of Teacher Training and Education of UNAIR (Fakultas Keguruan dan Ilmu Pendidikan, or FKIP). In 1963, FKIP UNAIR was converted into an independent institution, namely the Institute of Teacher Training and Education, which became better known as IKIP Malang (Institute of Teacher Training and Education).

The year 1999 marked yet another important change to the institution's status, as IKIP Malang obtained a greater mandate and was transformed into the Universitas Negeri Malang, or UM. UM is a leading university in East Java under the Ministry of Research, Technology and Higher Education, Republic of Indonesia which strives to enhance and strengthen its research and development and has taken various initiatives to complement its educational excellence and has entered into various collaborative arrangements with other parties to enhance networking.

2. Definition of Operative expressions:

The purpose of this MoU is to enable cooperation between UoH and UM for education, technology, research, and management to strengthen the capacity building of institution in the Asian region and to support the sustainable development in the global perspective.

3. Areas of collaboration:

The parties will promote and cooperate in:

- i. Academic Exchange in the broad areas of mutual interest from Faculties of Letters, Social Science, Economics, Education, Engineering, Mathematics and Science, etc.;
- ii. R&D collaborations in the above said areas;
- iii. Training and Teaching in the above areas;
