Aims and structure of the cooperation

Both parties agree on mutual interests in developing science education teaching and research dealing with Education for Sustainable Development Goals. They commit to establishing a collaboration within preservice science teacher training and science education research project (SCIEDU). During the first funding phase of UM internal fund (01.04.2022 – 31.12.2023), the two parties agree to

- develop and evaluate educational research in the area of science education or other science disciplines under the SCIEDU Project
- write the research result for submission in a reputable international journal.

The First Party

- organizes the research and other academic activities for supporting the SCIEDU Project.
- covers the expenses of the SCIEDU Project, including the publication charge and additional financial costs that suits the Indonesian government regulation of finance – if granted by the Institute for research and Social Service, Universitas Negeri Malang.
- assists the second party in preparing the paper for publication.

The Second Party

- organizes the research and other academic activities for supporting the SCIEDU Project.
- drafts a paper for publication.
- involves contributions of the first party in publications.
